

Service Pupil Premium (SPP) Strategy Statement, 2022-25

1. Summary Information
School	Leeming RAF Community Primary	Current Year	2022-23
Strategy Period	2022-25	Total Current SPP Budget	173 x £320 = £55,360
Total Number of Pupils	173	Number eligible for SPP	171	Date of next review	September 2023

Attainment information for service pupils is not presented here, as the primary focus for SPP is on pastoral care, guidance and support, rather than academic outcomes. However, due to the fact that 99.2% of our school are service pupils, their academic and progress information can be ascertained from the 'Achievement' tab on our website.

2. Specific Challenges and Barriers to Overcome
Service-Linked / Contextual Barriers
A	Disrupted home life due to parental deployments and service issues, with commensurate rise in SEMH challenges, emotional vulnerability, anxiety and, in severe cases, mental health issues.
B	Transition and movement between schools (both in and out of Leeming). These transitions precipitate rise in SEMH issues, friendship concerns, anxiety and stress for pupils, and generate additional administrative burdens on teaching and support staff.
C	Gaps in learning as a result of pupils studying different curricula in a variety of locations and even languages (e.g. Slovakian, Welsh), resulting in anxiety and loss of confidence as pupils approach learning that their peers are secure in but they are new to.
D	Above national % of pupils with SEND, especially SEMH, C&I and ASD issues. These pupils are particularly vulnerable to the contextual issues listed above.
E	Pupil experience is diverse; many service pupils have a rich life experience having travelled widely and engaged with a range of cultures and societies. However, a significant number of SPs are unable to embrace wider opportunities of the area and other educational experiences. This can be as a result of the geographical limitations (e.g. living behind the wire with parents who don't drive) or of other factors (e.g. finance, opportunity, spousal deployments etc.).

3. Outcomes

5. Review of Expenditure

Previous Academic Year	2021-22

A variety of data is evaluated to determine the successfulness of strategies employed. Most notably:

- Wellbeing information – soft and hard data demonstrates improvements in wellbeing
 - o Where applicable, wellbeing scales (e.g. Boxall profiling, GUINY) following pastoral interventions and support indicate improvements
 - o Pupil voice demonstrates this has been effective, for example: “I used to be really worried about mum being away, but having worked with Mrs. X, I get that it's normal and I can cope now” (Y4); “I am moving schools but it's going to be really good because I've talked to my new teacher with Mrs. X and they seem really friendly” (Y2); “I loved the five ways to wellbeing I did with Mrs. Y – it helped me learn about how my body feels when I get anxious, and stuff I can do to stop that happening as much, like breathing and talking and things.” (Y5)
 - o CPOMs records detail positive impact of friendship groups, ELSA strategies and pastoral work.
- SEND progress and IPMs – SPs with SEND have seen excellent progress against IPMs. SEND pupil progress was ahead of non-SEND peers last year. 100% of SPs with EHCPs made good or better progress.
- Parent voice – 100% of parents would recommend the school for SPs; score of 4.6 out of 5 for quality of pastoral care; 100% positive for personal development
- Information gleaned from other settings – consistently excellent feedback on quality of transfer reports etc.
- Audit outcomes – e.g. safeguarding oversight, 100% positive, strong culture, noted excellent provision for handover
- Specific programme evaluations – e.g. of interventions; less effective or high demand interventions replaced with research-led alternatives.

One change of policy from previous year relates to specific provision of SPSW role. This role was funded to specifically provide SP pastoral care at the start of this strategy period and proved very effective. However, following evaluation and a change of staffing, the individual role was not renewed, and was, instead, replaced with enhanced ATA support across teams. These staff have dedicated pastoral responsibilities, but by sharing this out, pupils can access support from familiar adults, rather than waiting for 'the right day' to access this with someone they knew less well. Equally, if any of these staff leave, they do not take with them the sole expertise and responsibility for pastoral provision, thus 'future-proofing' this better. This approach will be evaluated over the coming year to determine its success.

It is noted that as a result of the high impact of a number of the school's approaches over time (see below for commendations and citations of best practice), many chosen approaches are similar / identical to those used in the previous year. Expenditure is always critically evaluated and ways of working are improved; however, since many of the contextual barriers remain unchanged (but feature different pupils every year), the strategies for addressing them need a measure of consistency also.

6. Additional Detail

The school's use of the SPP has been praised by a number of external sources, including the SCiP Alliance, RAF Families' Federation, the Children's Commissioner's Office (based in the DfE), the Local Authority, and through various peer reviews. Further information on this can be found on the website.

The above strategy statement is also supported by a Best Practice Case Study, and the Service Premium Guide for Stakeholders, which add further detail about our allocation of the SPP in school.

The Service Pupil Premium is used alongside the Disadvantaged Pupil Premium (DPP) in certain cases (where DPs are also Service Pupils). For further information on the way in which the school uses the Disadvantaged Pupil Premium, see the Disadvantaged Pupil Premium Statement.

The school was subject to a Collaborative Pupil Premium Review undertaken with the Teaching School Alliance of which we are part in 2018. This review determined that SPP was used effectively to support vulnerable pupils; it was noted: "Staff knowledge of PP is strong. They are aware of the need and how the use of PP supports the developments." / "Pastoral Care is a significant strength" / "The children display good conduct behaviour throughout the school" / "Children take part in purposeful activities and their learning is moved forward effectively by a knowledgeable and effective team of practitioners who know their children well."
